Chapter 412: Evolution of the Realms

A New Era of Humanoids

Sung Jin-Woo, from his throne in the True Absolute One Domain Realm, gazed across the countless realms under his dominion. Many of these realms were home to diverse species, each unique in form and nature. Yet, to fulfill their potential and bring harmony to the multiverse, Sung Jin-Woo enacted a divine transformation, evolving numerous non-human denizens into humanoid forms.

This act of evolution not only enhanced their intelligence and adaptability but also allowed them to better interact with one another and the multiverse as a whole.

The Evolution Process

With a wave of his hand, Sung Jin-Woo sent waves of divine energy cascading through the realms, targeting the denizens of specific worlds. These energies rewrote their very essence, reshaping their forms while preserving their core identities.

1. Beast Realms:

Original Form: Fierce animals with primal instincts.

Evolved Form: Beast-Humans, upright beings with animalistic traits, heightened intelligence, and the ability to speak and reason.

2. Aqua Realms:

Original Form: Merfolk and aquatic creatures.

Evolved Form: Sea-Humans, amphibious beings capable of thriving both underwater and on land, with gills and webbed extremities.

3. Dinosaur Realms:

Original Form: Ancient, reptilian predators.

Evolved Form: Dino-Humans, towering humanoids with scales, claws, and tails, blending primal strength with sentience.

4. Avian Realms:

Original Form: Birds and winged creatures.

Evolved Form: Bird-Humans, humanoids with feathers, wings for flight, and keen eyesight.

5. Dragon Realms:

Original Form: Majestic dragons of various forms.

Evolved Form: Dragon-Humans, humanoid dragons with immense power, scales for armor, and fiery breath.

6. Kaiju Realms:

Original Form: Gigantic, monstrous creatures.

Evolved Form: Kaiju-Humans, colossal humanoids retaining their immense size and strength, yet capable of rational thought and speech.

7. Horse Realms:

Original Form: Intelligent equine species.

Evolved Form: Centaurs, beings with the upper body of a human and the lower body of a horse, swift and noble.

8. Goat and Bull Realms:

Original Form: Powerful bovine and caprine creatures.

Evolved Form: Minotaurs, humanoid beings with the heads of bulls or goats, endowed with immense strength and resilience.

Additional Evolutions

Sung Jin-Woo continued this process across approximately 20 more realms, transforming denizens into semi-humanoid forms tailored to their original traits:

Feline Realms: Cat-Humans, agile and stealthy.

Insect Realms: Insectoids, humanoids with exoskeletons and unique abilities like flight or venom.

Reptilian Realms: Lizardfolk, cold-blooded humanoids with regenerative abilities.

Aquatic Mammal Realms: Cetacean-Humans, humanoids with sonar capabilities and aquatic adaptations.

Forest Realms: Woodkin, humanoids with bark-like skin and deep connections to nature.

Molten Realms: Infernians, humanoids forged from magma, radiating heat and flame.

Harmony Through Transformation

The evolution brought profound changes to these realms:

1. Enhanced Unity: The humanoid forms enabled better communication and cooperation across realms, fostering peace and collaboration.

2. Strengthened Potential: With improved intelligence and adaptability, these beings could now strive for greater heights, participating in challenges like the Dimensional Towers.

3. Cultural Renaissance: Evolved denizens began to create art, music, literature, and innovations that enriched their worlds and beyond.

Reactions Across the Realms

The transformation was met with awe and reverence. Across the multiverse, denizens bowed in gratitude to Sung Jin-Woo, praising him as the ultimate benefactor. Temples were erected in his honor, and the evolved beings pledged themselves to his divine cause, ensuring their loyalty and devotion for eternity.

A Unified Multiverse

With this act, Sung Jin-Woo bridged the gap between species, creating a multiverse where diversity thrived alongside unity. His vision of a harmonious and interconnected creation took another step toward realization, as realms once separated by form and nature now stood united in purpose and destiny.
